Two-Day Medora Getaway

Edited from an article originally published by Midwest Living editors.

Theodore Roosevelt referred to his time in North Dakota, saying, “Here the romance of my life began.” Medora’s lineup of amenities makes it a pleasant base to explore the badlands Teddy loved.

DAY 1

Head straight for the main attraction: Theodore Roosevelt National Park, which has two main units. A good first stop is the South Unit Visitor Center, with a museum and Roosevelt’s Maltese Cross Cabin. You might see bighorn sheep, bison, and wild horses.

When you return to town, head to the North Dakota Cowboy Hall of Fame, which pays tribute to Native Americans, ranchers, and rodeo riders.

The Theodore Roosevelt Presidential Library is opening in 2025, honor the life, legacy, and enduring relevance of our 26th president. Be inspired to bold action and fearless participation In the Arena—challenge yourself to dare greatly, think boldly, live passionately, and care deeply, just like TR.

Fine dining meets Western chic at Theodore’s Dining Room inside Rough Riders Hotel. The ribeye is prelude to a sweet stay in rooms with Victorian oak armoires, red velvet furniture, and pillow-top beds.

DAY 2

Teddy comes to life-as president, family man, soldier, hunter, and rancher-in the rousing performance by an expert impersonator in Brunch with President Roosevelt.

Tours of the 1880s Chateau de Mores State Historic Site cover the history of the aristocratic French couple who settled the town.

Explore downtown Historic Medora, with unique shops, parks, and outdoor activities. It is easy spend hours seeing everything there is to see.

Wrap up your day stay with a combo of a Pitchfork Steak Fondue dinner and a showing of the Medora Musical. “Cowboy cooks” at the Pitchfork Steak Fondue impale steaks 10 at a time and plunge them into 400-degree oil. Load your plate with all the fixings and eat as you watch the sun dropping over the badlands.

The Medora Musical is the essential experience in western North Dakota, celebrating Teddy Roosevelt and America with song-and-dance routines. The Burning Hills Amphitheatre overlooks a badlands landscape that produces a spotlighted horseman in the closing act.

Freedom 250

The Theodore Roosevelt Presidential Library, opening in Medora, ND, on July 1st, is a featured Freedom 250 event!
